

LATIN AMERICAN AND CARIBBEAN CELEBRATES THE CREATION OF IACHR LGBTI RIGHTS RAPPORTEUR TO ENSURE THE RIGHTS OF LGBTI PERSONS IN THE AMERICAS

The Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR) has created a thematic Rapporteur on the rights of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex (LGBTI) people, who will take office in February next year. The mission of this Rapporteur will be to support the work of the Inter-American Commission in its mandate to promote and protect human rights in the Americas.

This decision confirms the commitment of the Commission to human rights related to sexual orientation and gender identity and is the result of increasing demands, requests and reports received by the IACHR on the continuing violations, discrimination and violence against LGBTI people in the Americas.

In addition to these issues, the IACHR extends the range of issues of this new Rapporteurship to include body diversity as part of its mandate - a key matter to ensure human rights of other people, such as intersex people.

As an LGBTTTI Coalition of organizations in the region that has been working for six years in the Organisation of American States (OAS) system, we express our support and appreciation for this momentous decision that will give more relevance and visibility to the issue in the region and in OAS member states.

Since 2010, when the Coalition began to think about a Rapporteurship, we welcomed the creation and operation of the LGBTI unit. At this time, with the accumulation of experience, hearings, reports, precautionary measures, and case-work information gathered, we believe that the establishment of a specific thematic rapporteur is the necessary next step to take.

Likewise, we recognize and appreciate the work of the LGBTI Unit of the Commission led by Commissioner Robinson and the efforts of Fanny Gomez, Human Rights Specialist at the IACHR Secretariat, in the years since its creation in 2011, with whom we established a regular collaboration, which will now give way to this thematic Rapporteur. The significance of this decision is shown by the function and mandate of the rapporteurs of the Commission, namely: to make recommendations to the member states of the OAS from visits to States and consultations with experts; publication of thematic studies and country reports; and to process petitions and individual cases where human rights violations, in this case related to sexual orientation and gender identity and expression and bodily diversity, are alleged.
